

Name : _____

Date: _____

EVERYDAY SPEECH

Accepting Criticism

Criticism is when someone points out a flaw in how we do something. A coach, teacher, or parent may criticize us to help us. It may hurt our feelings to hear that we are not doing something perfectly, but in the end it will help you improve!

Why did Sarah get upset?

How did the teacher feel when Sarah got upset? Why?

How did Sarah show she can handle criticism?

TELL HOW YOU COULD BENEFIT FROM THE CRITICISM AND WHAT YOU SHOULD SAY BACK

A teammate shows you how to shoot a lay-up

Your mom points out you've been making a cursive "B" incorrectly

Your teacher tells you there is a better way to factor in math class

A large, empty speech bubble with a tail pointing down and to the left, intended for the student to write their response to the first scenario.A large, empty speech bubble with a tail pointing down and to the left, intended for the student to write their response to the second scenario.A large, empty speech bubble with a tail pointing down and to the left, intended for the student to write their response to the third scenario.