EVERYDAY SPEECH

Handling Group Pressure

It can be really hard to say no when a group is pressuring us. We all want to be liked and have friends. When other people pressure us, they are not really being friends. You can always say no.

How was the group pressuring Bobby?

How did Bobby feel after he gave in to the pressure?

At the end, how did Bobby handle the pressure?

How did his friends feel when he said no?

WRITE DOWN WHAT YOU WOULD DO IN EACH SITUATION

1. Everyone at the table wants to copy your homework

2. Your friends want you to hang out after school but you have to work

3. A group wants you to run for school president but you have no interest
