Listening with Your Whole Body

We can show speakers that we are listening using more than just our ears. When you are talking to someone, how do you know that they are listening? What are they doing?

For each question related to the videos we have watched about listening with your body, write a response using the information that you have learned.

What are three things that you can do to show that you are listening with your whole body?

Why is it important to face the speaker when you are listening?

What are some things that a speaker could feel or think when you aren't listening with your body?

How is commenting back to a speaker helpful to them?

ON THE BACK OF THIS PAGE, DRAW A PICTURE OF SOMEONE SHOWING HOW TO BE A "GOOD" LISTENER USING ALL OF THE PARTS OF WHOLE BODY LISTENING.
