

Name: _____ Date: _____

Everyday Speech

Saying Please And Thank You

When we get something from someone else, it is important to say thank you. When we ask for something, it's always important to say please.

Write what they should say next time they ask for something or receive something.

A large rectangular area with a dashed border, intended for writing the student's response.