Everyday Speech + Remote Work Tools = 🙌

We're not affiliated with these companies in any way!

Purpose:

Zoom is a HIPAA compliant live video conferencing service that allows screen sharing so the people on the conference can see what's on your computer.

Use with Everyday Speech:

Share your screen & sound with students to watch videos together. Use the pen tool to annotate, or draw on the screen. If you're playing a game or using an interactive worksheet, allow students to control the mouse and manage the activity from their computer.

Pricing:

In response to COVID-19, Zoom is lifting the 40-minute meeting limit on free Basic accounts for K-12 schools.

Give Remote Access
Kami

www.kamiapp.com

Purpose:
Write text, draw on, and otherwise mark up PDFs. Kami is available as an extension for Google Chrome and integrates with Google Drive, Google Classroom, and Canvas.

Use with Everyday Speech:
Have students watch a video, then open the Video Companion Worksheet (PDF) in Kami and circle the main character, type their answers, or draw what emotion a character is feeling.

Pricing:
In response to COVID-19, Kami is offering their premium plan for free to qualifying educators, through at least April 30th, 2020.

1 When someone asks, "What's up?" and you know you should take a short turn but you could talk about many things, how do you choose just one?

   a. Pick the shortest one.

   b.  Pick the most interesting one.

   c.  Pick the one that will surprise the person the most.

2 Do we still need to fill the Conversation Measuring Cup if we are in a bad mood or don't feel like talking?

   a. Yes.

   b.  No.

   c.  Depends if an adult makes us talk.

   d.  Other (explain your thinking).

3 For a second, Andy looked interested in what Natalie was saying. Did he maintain that look? Why do we need to watch people for changes in their facial expression?

www.loom.com

Purpose:
As a screen recording software, Loom allows you to record what's on your computer screen and narrate over it.

Use with Everyday Speech:
Use Loom to create recaps of assignments that you're sending home to parents, or to outline directions. Rather than having to write a wall of text, or list complicated directions, you can simply show parents what to do using Loom.

Pricing:
In response to COVID-19, Loom has made their premium plan free to any educator or student.
